

Senior Impact Investment Advisor Southeast Asia

Do you have a background in (impact) investment and/or investment analysis? Are you looking to join an international company that develops and delivers innovative impact finance and investment solutions for sustainable agriculture and food systems? If so, we offer you an excellent opportunity to join our Indonesia team in Jakarta as Senior Impact Investment Advisor.

About the company

FACS is part of the Financial Access Group, the emerging markets financial services business taken private from ING Bank. FACS has more than 20 years of experience providing operational support and advisory services to financial institutions in emerging markets. We have successfully executed over 350 transactions in 45 countries.

Our main activities focus on advisory and the development of investment cases and innovative and sustainable solutions to improve access to finance in sustainable agriculture and rural landscapes. We work closely with leading food & agri companies, financial institutions, impact investment funds and NGOs that seek to increase their exposure and deepen their impact in rural agriculture and agri supply chains. In 2018 we launched PT Kreditek Financial Access, our technology services platform, which supports rural financial institutions in Indonesia through low-cost, high-impact digital solutions.

We work only in developing economies and emerging markets and have regional offices in Indonesia, Kenya, Ghana and Cote d'Ivoire. Our Head Office is in Amsterdam.

The role

In this role you will be part of our global investment advisory team and drive our advisory and technology services in Southeast Asia. You will be originating, structuring, and leading investment and agrifinance advisory assignments for impact investment funds, banks and other impact-focused investors. In our ambition to bring innovation and scale in rural and agrifinance you will be given the independence and freedom to think outside the box and to design and structure financial solutions that will make a difference.

We highly value teamwork and we promote learning and sharing of skills and knowledge.

The role will include regular travel to the project locations of FACS.

Who you are

You have extensive transaction experience in (impact) investment as an advisor or investment analyst with strong financial modeling, investment structuring and project execution skills. We expect you to have affinity with the agriculture sector. You enjoy business development and to present new ideas or solutions in a cross-cultural setting. You can design and explain verbally and in writing complex investment models and structures to clients, colleagues, and other stakeholders of FACS.

You are energetic, flexible, hands-on and passionate about innovations in impact finance. You excel in teamwork, but also work well independently. You clearly understand the complexities of working in emerging markets and enjoy working in a cross-cultural environment.

What you bring

- University degree in Economics, Business Administration or comparable studies with a finance/business background, preferably complemented with a CFA certification.
- Minimum of 5 years' experience in investment analysis and transaction advisory with a commercial bank, development finance institution, impact investment firm and/or consultancy organization; working experience in agrifinance and in emerging markets is strongly preferred;
- Strong project management skills;
- Excellent communication and presentation skills in English and Bahasa Indonesia
- Teamplayer who is eager to learn and share;
- Client-focused;
- Entrepreneurial, flexible and resourceful;

What we offer

We offer a challenging full-time position in an enthusiastic international team within a dynamic company that is committed to bringing positive change. We offer market-based compensation and the ability to learn and develop your personal and professional capabilities in a growing sector.
